Beginning Computer Art

You can combine decorative stitch patterns which are pre-programmed in the Memory Craft 8000 to create a picture as if you were painting a canvass. It is quite a new way of using a sewing machine. The computer sewing machine has expanded the world of sewing. It's called "computer art". It can be used to make a framed picture for your home in place of a painting picture. You could also make a greeting card by embroidering a small piece of fabric. Such artistic handicrafts match the need of the present age.

Daisies are embroidered onto a pink satin background.

A quiet picture is made by combining a dark background with bright leaves and flowers.

Indigo fabric is used for the vase, which sets off some wild chrysanthemums.

Flowers and leaves which show rhythmic movement. A thin tied ribbon is used as an accent.

The works shown on pages 33 and 34 may look difficult to make, but they merely consist of combinations of simple embroidery patterns. Once you learn how to make a flower and bud, you can arrange them to make an entire bouquet. Directions for creating the work illustrated on page 35 is below.

SUGGESTIONS

Overlap threads as if you were painting. In this way, colors and shapes mingle and the picture becomes full of expression.

As the arrangement of colors is the decisive factor, select them with care. For best results, use colors of the same tone for the flowers. Use green thread for leaves and stems. Use a different color for the vase as an accent. An example is shown below for your reference.

It is not always necessary to sew strictly following a rough sketch or design. On the contrary, leave sewing to the sewing machine and move the material to make a tasteful picture.

Be sure to use the embroidery hoop.
Operate the machine slowly until you learn the procedure completely.
Be sure to change the position of the needle every time the pattern is changed.
Since decorative sewing patterns are sewn continuously, be sure to press the AUTO STOP key after you choose a pattern.

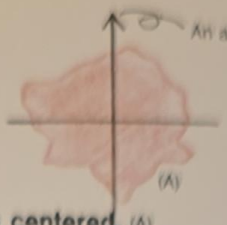
Hints For Professional-style Embroideries

1 Iron embroidery fabric.

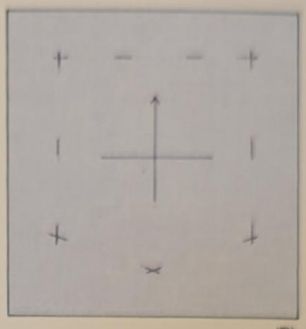
2 Choose a design.

Please a " ↑ " mark on your material (with a water-erasable pen) where the pattern should be centered. (A)



If you want to embroider on a relatively small piece of material (for example, a pocket), don't cut the material into a small piece before embroidering (see illustration). (B)

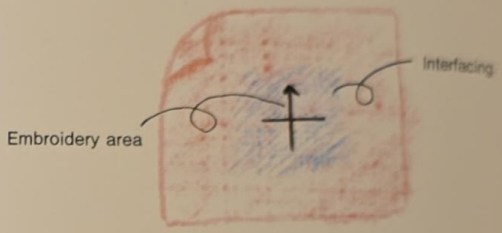
If embroidering on a fabric corner or edge which is smaller than the embroidery frame, baste some supplemental fabric to it. (C)



(B)

(C)

3 Iron interfacing to wrong side of embroidery fabric. (Interfacing should be a little bigger than the embroidery pattern.)



4 Set the material on the embroidery frame. Align your " ↑ " mark with the centering line on the template.

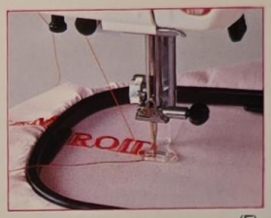
Finishing point of the 7th letter

★Over 10 letters

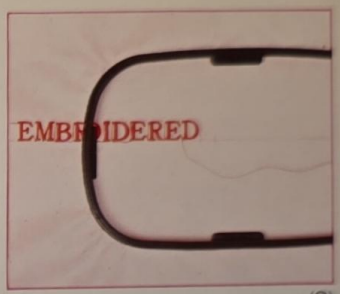
You will have to reset the fabric on the embroidery frame so that the letters stay in a straight line.
Use the marks on the template or inner frame to position.

★To insert space

When you insert a space between the words, program a period (.) and move the embroidery frame by pressing the "FRAME FORWARD" key.
(Refer to the instruction manual for details.) (F)



(F)



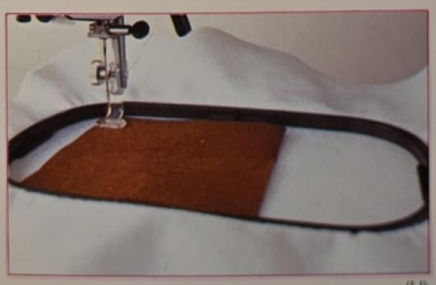
(G)

However, there is another method to insert a space as follows:

1. Place a marks(•) at the end of the first word and at the beginning of next word with a water-erasable pen. Leave the desired space between words.
2. After you finish embroidering the first word, slide the frame to the left for a space. Then restart the machine to embroider next word. (G)

●If the word is formed with more than 10 characters, reset the fabric to the frame as mentioned above.

❸ Making an emblem



(H)

(I)

1. Iron interfacing to wrong side of white felt.
2. Place brown felt on it and embroider. (H)
3. Iron on one more piece of interfacing to the back side to cover the bobbin thread and for strength.
4. Cut around the emblem on the brown felt leaving 0.2–0.3cm. (I)
5. Cut around the emblem on the white felt leaving 0.5–0.6cm. (I)
